Details of the Wedding Finery-Re-Notes.

party in New York last night. Mrs. Hazen and her mother and sister have given such strict attention to the preparation of her trosseau that on Saturday she had finished giving her order. Besides the wedding dress, Mrs. Hazen has ordered nine street dresses, eleven dinner gowns, seven house ostumes and tea gowns, five coats and five evening wraps. The estimated cost of the finery is close to $8,000. Fifty skilled operators are working day and night to complete the trosseau within the present week Most of the gowns are ready for fitting and this tiresome ordeal commenced Sat urday afternoon and will be continued during the rest of the stay in New York of their future wearer. The wedding gown is of a delicate gray silk, very beautifully embroidered in silver and lavishly trimmed with point lace. It is stated that all the street and evening costumes will be either in white, grays, mauve or black. The ma-terial of the wedding dress and a few other of the costliest brocades and satins used were selected from imported stock, but much of the lace used on the evening dresss is from the beautiful collection owner by Mrs. Hazen, than which nothing more

Cardinal Gibbons, who went to New Orleans last night to officiate at the marriage of his niece, will be back again within ten days or two weeks.

Yesterday morning, to escape the public attention which her appearance creates at every turn, Mrs. Hazen was closely veiled when she left her hotel with her mother. Both ladies attended late mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Mrs. Audenried gave a very charming dinner Saturday night, when the Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Hitchcock, Admiral Dewey, Associate Justice and Mrs. Brown, Commander and Mrs. Clover and Mr. Ferguson were her guests.

Mrs. O. P. McCarty of Cincinnati returned to her home this week, after a tendays' visit with Mrs. M. V. Richards.

The first meeting of the season of the Harper's Ferry Euchre Club was held at the residence of Miss Clara Spliedt, on East Capitol street, Saturday right, and the following officers were always for the season of East Capitol street, Saturday right, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Calvin T. Milans; vice president, Clara C. Spliedt, and treasurer, Charles L. Hutchinson. The prizes of the evening were awarded to Miss Ida Spliedt, first ladies'; Miss Antomette Eberly, second ladies'; Francis Weller, first gentlemen's, and Jos. H. Milans, second gentlemen's.

After refreshments were served the club was entertained by a number of comical recitations by Mr. Peyton B. Fletcher. Mr. Michael O'Connor has issued invitations for the marriage of his daughter Mar-garet to Mr. George Matthew Lehmann Wednesday, November 15, at 10 o'clock, St. Anthony's Church, Brookland, D. C. Mrs. Jennie A. Harbin left on the 2d instant for a trip to New York and Philadel-

DEATH OF FRANCIS P. DEWEES. Was One of the "First Defenders" of National Capital.

Francis P. Dewees died yesterday afterncon at his residence, 201 East Capitol street. He had been in falling health for about two years. The remains will be removed to Pottsville, Pa., for interment, His wife and three children, a son and two daughters, survive him. Mr. Dewees was born in Pottsville, Pa., nearly sixty-eight years ago. He graduated from Union College, and, taking up the law, he became associated with his uncle, the late P. W. Hughes, in the practice of that profession. At the outbreak of the civil war he joined one of the companies organized in Pennsylvania and came to this city for the defense of the national capital. They reached the city nearly a week before the 6th Massachusetts, and their organiza-tion was known as the First Defenders, With the first call for 75,000 troops he en-listed and served for the three months' period of enlistment. Upon being mustered out he returned to Pennsylvania and reout he returned to Pennsylvania and re out he returned to Pennsylvania and resumed the practice of law.

Upon the organization of the greenback party he became actively identified with it, and in 1880 was its candidate for judge of the supreme court of Pennsylvania. A controversy arose, however, between him and Gen. Weaver, the party's candidate for President, and the result was that Mr. De-wees resigned his candidacy and went upon the stump, advocating the election of Gen. Hancock, the democratic candidate. From that time on he was prominently allied with the democratic party. He was a forceful writer and an able political speaker and contributed largely to cam-paign literature. As an author he was peraps best known by his work entitled 'Molly Maguires,"

More than a decade ago Mr. Dewees came to this city to practice his profession as a member of the firm of Hughes, Buchanan & Dewees. President Cleveland in 1885 appointed him an assistant to the Attorney General, and he retained the position through the Harrison administration, retiring in 1893. He then resumed his professional career in this city.
